

Your board will ask if the team is crisis-ready. Aegix is how you answer with evidence.

Build a realistic crisis exercise in minutes, run it live with your whole team, and get a graded assessment of how they performed the moment it ends.

THE PROBLEM

Crisis readiness is the one capability nobody can measure.

Building a credible exercise takes weeks of consultant time. Running it produces a room full of conversation. And the report arrives so late that the urgency is gone. Meanwhile regulators now expect evidence that your organization has tested how it responds, not a calendar invite proving you met.

Weeks to prepare. Nothing measurable to show.

Boards approve resilience budgets they cannot evaluate, and compliance teams document gaps they cannot quantify.

01 Scenario generation in minutes

Describe the crisis you want to test. Aegix writes the whole exercise around your organization: a multi-stage narrative, the decision points, the roles, the timing and the scoring.

- ✓ Tailored to your industry, geography and regulators
- ✓ Any crisis type, from ransomware to supply chain failure
- ✓ Every role sees the information that role would really have
- ✓ Edit anything before you run it, reuse it next quarter

02 Assessment the moment it ends

Every decision by every participant is captured and graded. The debrief is ready when the room is still full, not ten business days later.

- ✓ An A to F readiness grade you can take to the board
- ✓ Decision-by-decision analysis against best practice
- ✓ Prioritised improvement actions, tracked to closure
- ✓ Findings mapped to the frameworks your auditors use

→ FROM IDEA TO EVIDENCE IN FOUR STEPS

01 — DESIGN

Describe it

Tell Aegix the crisis, the sector and who is in the room. The exercise is written for you.

02 — RUN

Everyone joins

Participants scan a QR code. No app, no login. Timed decisions under real pressure.

03 — ASSESS

Grade the team

Every choice is scored, capability gaps identified, findings mapped to frameworks.

04 — PROVE

Hand over the file

Board report, audit trail and a response playbook, exported the same day.

Readiness score

One number and one grade, comparable across teams and repeatable every quarter.

Audit-ready report

Timestamped decisions, analysis and compliance mapping in one branded document.

Response playbook

A real incident playbook with roles, escalation and communications, built from what your team did.

Findings map automatically to NIST CSF · ISO 22301 · ISO 27001 · DORA · CBUAE · NESA · NIST SP 800-61
